SUMMARY

Creative and detail-oriented Frontend Developer with a strong passion for crafting seamless user experiences through clean, responsive, and interactive interfaces. Armed with a solid foundation in HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and modern frameworks like React, I transform complex problems into elegant, user-centric solutions. With a designer's eye and a coder's precision, I build pixel-perfect layouts that not only look good but also perform efficiently across all devices. Continuously exploring the evolving tech landscape, I thrive on turning innovative ideas into web realities. Currently pursuing BCA, I bring both academic discipline and hands-on project experience to every team I join.
